Oil Can

INTRODUCTION

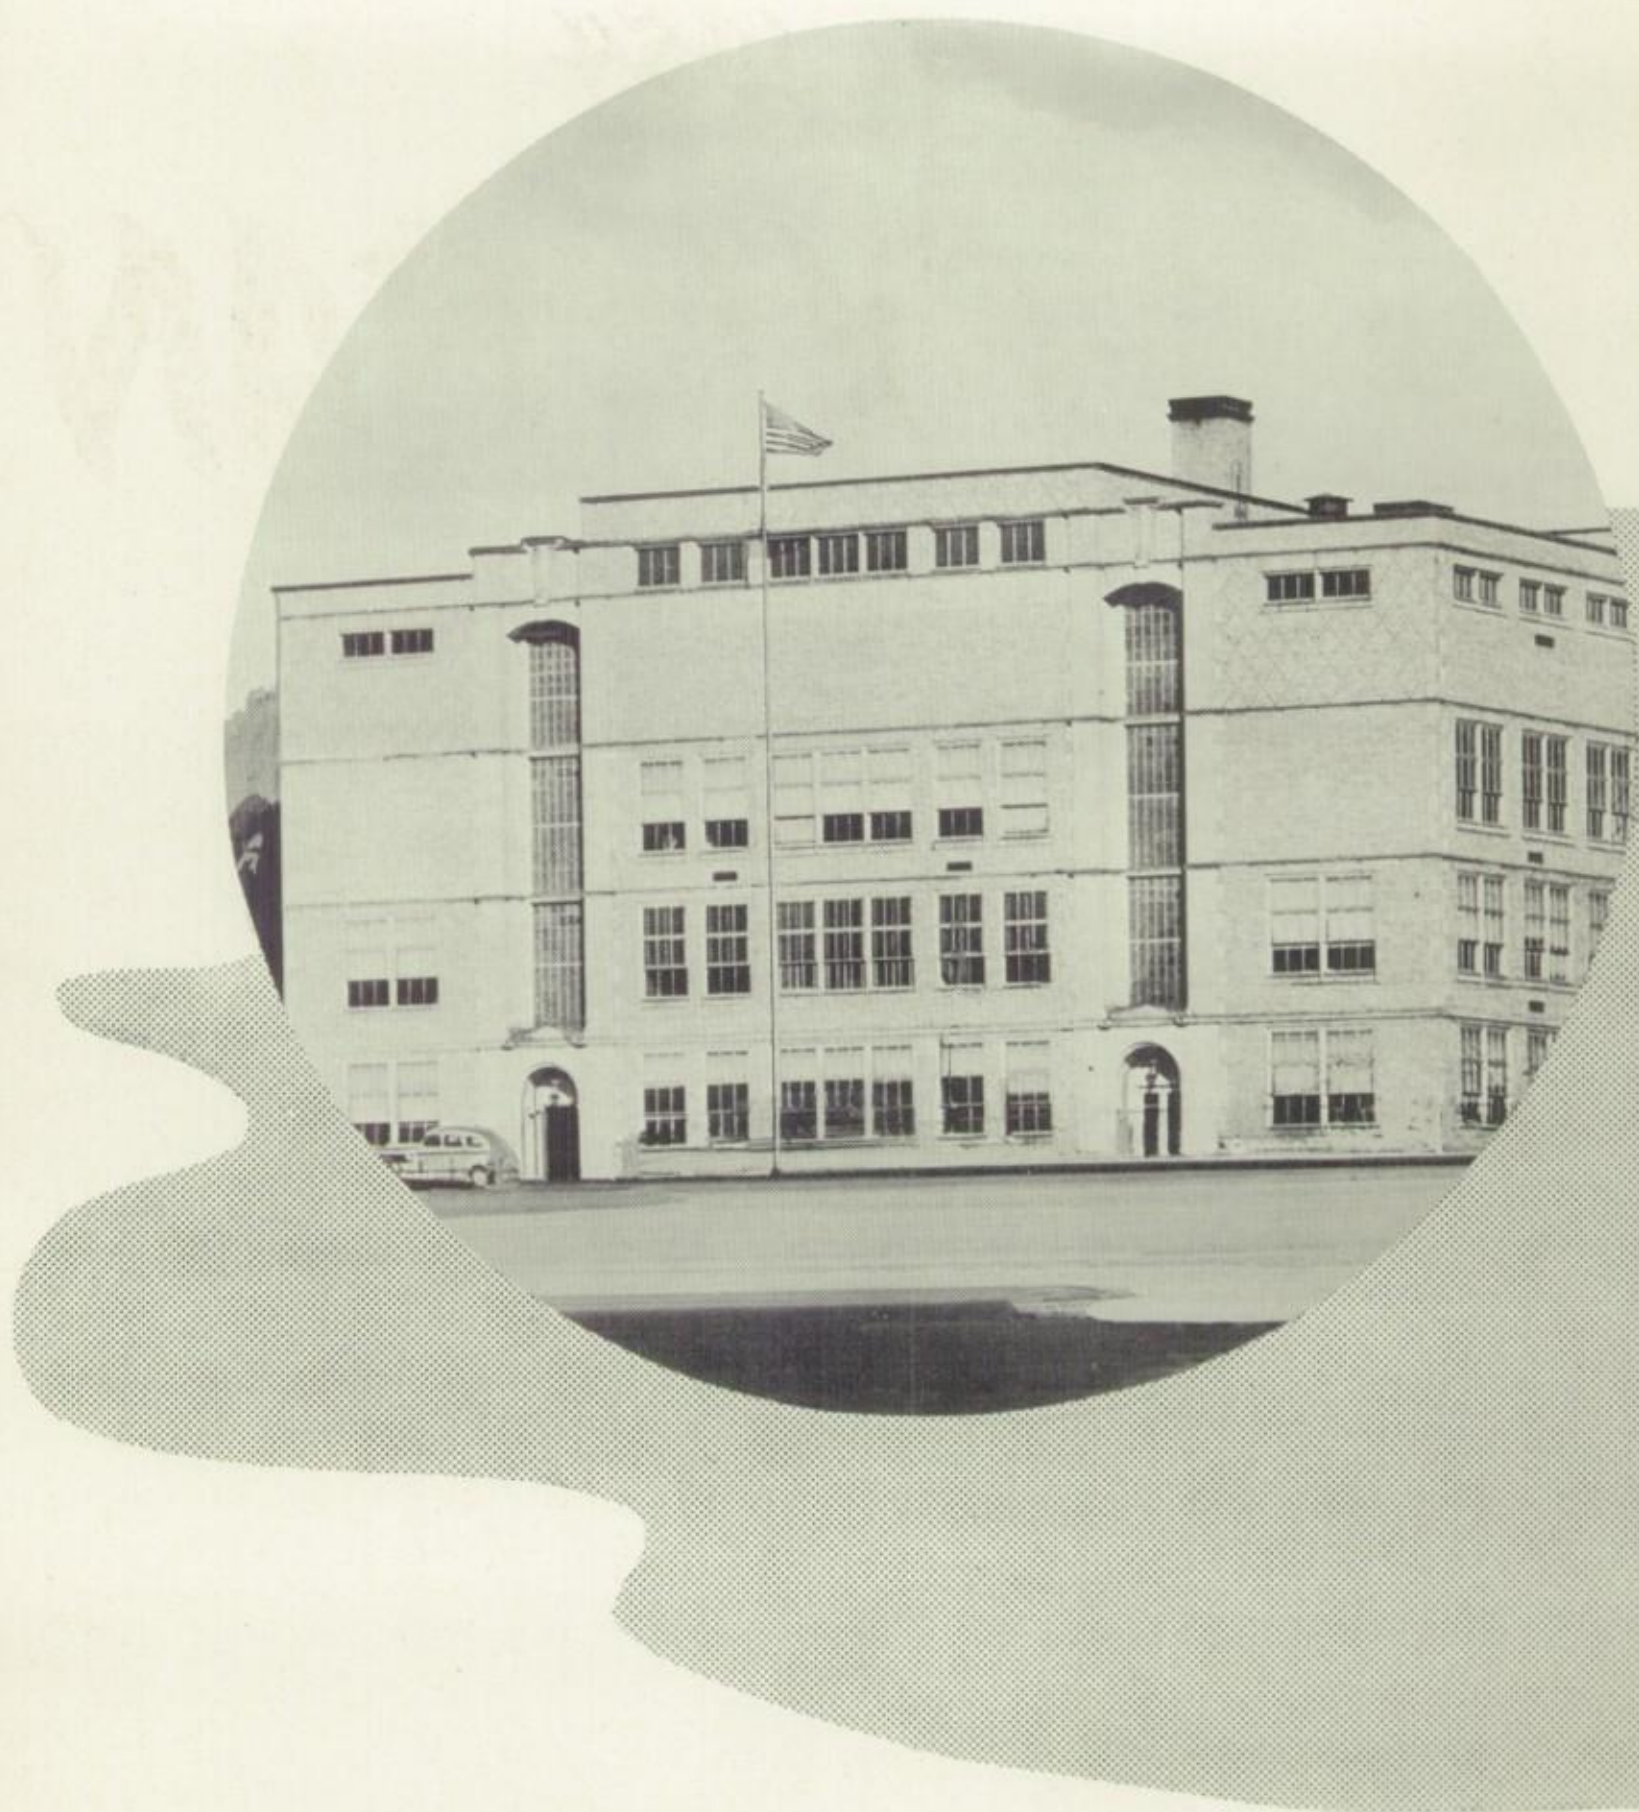

ONCE again you find in your hands a bright new "Oil Can", and to us, the Class of 1954, it is the culmination of our four years of work and play at Senior High. Within these pages we have recorded some of the outstanding memories of our wonderful senior year, in the hope that a glance at this book will always remind us of the friends, classes, sports, and activities we have enjoyed in our days at Oil City High School. It's all for you, kids. We hope you like it.

'54 OIL CAN

FAITH HAVE WE....

in Oil City High
School we love so well
Of our noble alma mater
Let our praises tell
Hail to Oil City High
Hail all hail again
Blue and white thy colors fly
Soaring upward to the sky
Thee we'll cherish evermore
As the years go by

DEDICATION

Daniel B. Wilson

A FRIEND to both teachers and pupils of the Oil City School District for over thirty-nine years is Mr. Dan Wilson. In grateful appreciation for his untiring service, and in deepest esteem of him as an individual and friend to all, we the Class of 1954, do humbly and thankfully dedicate this, our Oil Can to Danny Wilson.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. H. Virgil Grumbling

Dr. H. Virgil Grumbling

*K*EEPING the school district in smooth running order and ironing out innumerable problems of all sorts is the job handled efficiently and enthusiastically by Superintendent of Schools, Dr. H. Virgil Grumbling.

Mr. M.W. Hempfield

Mr. M.W. Hempfield

*M*ANAGING the finances of our school board, Mr. M. W. Hempfield is kept very busy, but always seems to manage a smile for his associates.

Mr. Carl H. Townsend

CO-ORDINATING the functions of the faculty and the students is a very important job, very efficiently accomplished by our able principal. No matter how busy, he is always willing to help us individually with our problems.

Mr. James Townley

BY taking care of the absence excuses, Mr. James Townley cheerfully keeps the records complete. He also manages the stage force. His make-up committee makes our stage productions possible.

*H*ERE the Class of 1954 pauses to pay tribute to the hard-working editors and staffs who volunteered their time and energy to publish this Oil Can, the final record of our senior year.

Clayton Rodgers ably served as editor-in-chief, supervising all other workers with the aid of John Ghrist, advisor, and putting in long hours on layouts and other innumerable details. Using her artistic talents, art editor, Marilyn Wheeling shouldered the task of making layouts with the aid of her staff, and personally designing the cover. The literary editor, Saralane Zehrung, applied her ability to the write-ups of seniors and clubs with the help of her hard-working staff in general who "wrote" the yearbook.

Working with financial advisor Warren J. Anna, Kay Way headed the efficient business staff that sold subscriptions and solicited advertising.

Much credit goes to Gene Allebach, Blaine Rhodes, John Byron, and Jim Depew for their excellent photography work throughout this book.

All in all, these pages show a great deal of originality and hard work which was accomplished only through the co-operation and efforts of this great staff of Seniors.

STUDENT COUNCIL

*A*T football games Student Council operated the refreshment stand, and through the beef boxes they received worthwhile suggestions and gripes. In homerooms, representatives conducted the collections of Salvation Army and March of Dimes donations, sale of mystery play tickets, and signing of Crusade for Freedom scrolls. Officers were Judy Bower, president; Gretchen Morck, vice-president; Elaine Van Kirk, secretary; and John Wilkinson, treasurer.

*A*STRONG student organization is the American Junior Red Cross. Roy Rossman presided over the monthly meetings with the assistance of Dave Schoch, vice-president; Marilyn Wheeling, secretary; and John Pop, treasurer. Their first activity was the membership drive and the money donated bought forty-six gift boxes for distribution overseas. Another worthwhile project was the sponsorship of a first aid class. Miss Margaret Reid served as teacher-sponsor.

RED CROSS

FRENCH CLUB

UNDER the guidance of Miss Beryl Eddy, "Le Circle Francais," composed of students of the romance language of France enjoyed many forms of entertainment this year. Among their activities were plays, game fests, and singing French songs.

VOCATIONAL GOVERNING BOARD

THE Vocational Governing Board has proved very successful in its job of ruling the Vocational department and providing for its social events. Entertainment for the year included a party for the football team and a spring picnic. Officers of the board were Telmar Young, president; John Gregory, vice-president; and Robert Winger, secretary. Mr. Hale aided as faculty adviser.

EUCLID CLUB

EUCLID Club consists of juniors and seniors who show interest in mathematics. Projects of the year were learning to use slide rulers, and assembling geometric figures from construction paper. This year's officers were Bob Lenar, Gene Allebach, and Saralane Zehrung, aided by Mrs. Esther Duink.

THE Debate Club, with no veteran team members, was reorganized in December this year with Ernest Wright taking over the coaches duties. After forfeiting their first two debates, they went on to a successful season in league competition. The club was comprised of debators, Edna Adhemar, Forest Mintz, Kay Snyder, and Mary Griffiths and other interested students who served as chairmen, timekeeper, and hostesses.

DEBATE CLUB

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

THE John Dewey Future Teachers of America Club was formed to give students information on various teaching fields. Members heard speeches by different teachers, sponsored dances, had a Christmas tea, attended conventions, and conducted the Y.W. Story Hour. Carol Paulie served as president, while Bob Moore was vice-president. Marilyn Wheeling acted as recording secretary while Ann Butler was corresponding secretary.

HUNTING AND FISHING

THE Hunting and Fishing Club under the direction of Blaine Stover, elected for its officers this year, president, Ron Higbee; vice-president, Boyd Enos; and secretary-treasurer, Fred Carter. Their schedule for the year consisted of a meeting once every two weeks with a speaker or appropriate program.

It was the largest club in the school with an almost complete male membership.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

ELECTING Dottie Bain, president; Lois Feely, vice-president; Betty Rodgers, secretary; Sam Widger, treasurer; and Barb Byham, reporter, the Future Business Leaders of America started their first full year as an organization in Senior. Making pins in school colors for the home football games was the first project of the club. They later presented an assembly and acted as hosts and guests of the Warren chapter.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

THE local chapter of the national F. H. A. association was highlighted this year with numerous social events and participation in the regional meeting in Warren and the State Convention in Wilkes-Barre. The club enjoyed their year's activities under the able leadership of the following: Barbara Reynolds, Pat Wagner, Norma Flinchbaugh, Mary Griffin, Diana Dehn, Carolee Kirkwood, Gretchen Weinrich, Kay Snyder, Roberta Carll, and Mary Sandrock.

ART CLUB

THE Art Club was supervised by John Ghrist and led by president, Jana Lee Lesh and secretary, Dodie Wattsjer. Members enjoyed themselves once a month by working with some phase of art that interested them. Many different and unusual creations resulted from these informal meetings.

CAMERA CLUB

THE officers of Camera Club this year were: Gene Allebach, president; Blaine Rhodes, vice-president; and secretary, Bob Bickel. The members studied many types of slides and held a contest within the club for black and white prints. John Ghrist served as adviser.

LOCAL HISTORY

THE Local History Club advised by Vance D. Brown, summoned all students interested in the history of surrounding communities. Led by president Barb Stephens, the club also had Dick Cavanaugh and Janet Kay as officers. A highlight of the year's activities was a meeting of all district Local History clubs at Titusville.

UNDER the guidance of Mrs. Irene Gill, the members of Public Reading Club proved their ability by leading devotions and introducing programs at our assemblies. A project of the club was a contribution to the "Wooden Church Crusade" against communism in Europe. Officers for the term were Kay Way, president; Vickie Risher, vice-president; Dorothy Meehan, secretary; and Mary Ann Diebold, treasurer.

PUBLIC READING

HI-Y

THE Hi-Y Club this year had as its president, Jim Kistler; other officers were Paul Barnes, Jim Boland, and Frank Harrington. Advisers were Ray Goodwill and Bill Glenn. On the club's agenda this year were the following: sponsorship of a dance; camping trips to Henry's Bend; a canoe trip; and sending two delegates to the convention in Harrisburg in April.

THE Oil and Gas Club was formed to help its members become better qualified in tradesmanship and citizenship. Throughout the year, they enjoyed educational programs, bowling, theater parties, and a banquet. Officers were as follows: Don Vogus, geologist, James Kluck, drilling superintendent; Ed Stubbs, producer; Bob McFadden, refining engineer; Bob Cunningham, chemist; and Wayne McCoy, mechanic. Russell Buckham served as adviser.

OIL AND GAS CLUB

LATIN CLUB

LED by its three officers, John Wilkinson, Lawrence Petulla, and Bob Petulla, Latin Club was organized for all OCHS Latin students. Aided by their advisor, Mrs. Evelyn Haney, the club enjoyed a variety of activities throughout the year. Games, puzzles, and various other Latin projects highlighted their monthly meetings.

MAKEUP COMMITTEE

*B*EHIND the face of each character portrayed by Senior's actors lies the work of the makeup committee under the direction of James Townley. Working with manager, Maxine Goss, this year were Dolores Peters, Joyce Stover, Carol Taylor, Judy Whaley, Pat Stivanson, and Nancy Ritts.

STAGE FORCE

*T*HE men behind the scenes at all plays and assemblies were our hardworking stage force. Keeping things going smoothly this year were Scott Himes, John Pop, John Gajewski, and manager, Chuck Carabell.

*P*ICTURED here are the hardworking girls who make out and reserve tickets for the senior and mystery plays. Working under the direction of Mr. Wright, these girls are picked in their sophomore year and serve three years.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

THE Senior Class play, "Our Miss Brooks," will long be remembered by all members of '54 as one of the most hilarious comedies ever produced on Senior's stage. On November 19 and 20, seventeen seniors skillfully presented this play under the direction of F. LaMonte Lewis, and Marlene Snow and Carol Skrobat, student directors.

The action of the play centered around the hectic life of Miss Brooks, an English teacher who was suddenly confronted with the problem of producing the annual school play and coping with the faculty and temperamental high school actors.

Jeanne Runzo handled the lead as Miss Brooks, while Virgil Grumbling, Barb Swetsky, Leroy Rodgers, and Sonia Ward portrayed various faculty members, and Mary Ann Regan played the school board president and a haughty mother.

Carol Paulie, Dodie Wattsjer, Dick Kohlman, Shirley Hill, Kay Rauscher, Beth Biery, Gretchen Morck, Saralane Zehrung, Barb Reynolds, Sam Widger and Axel Metschies played the parts of high school students whose humor and antics helped to make "Our Miss Brooks" a never-to-be forgotten OCHS production.

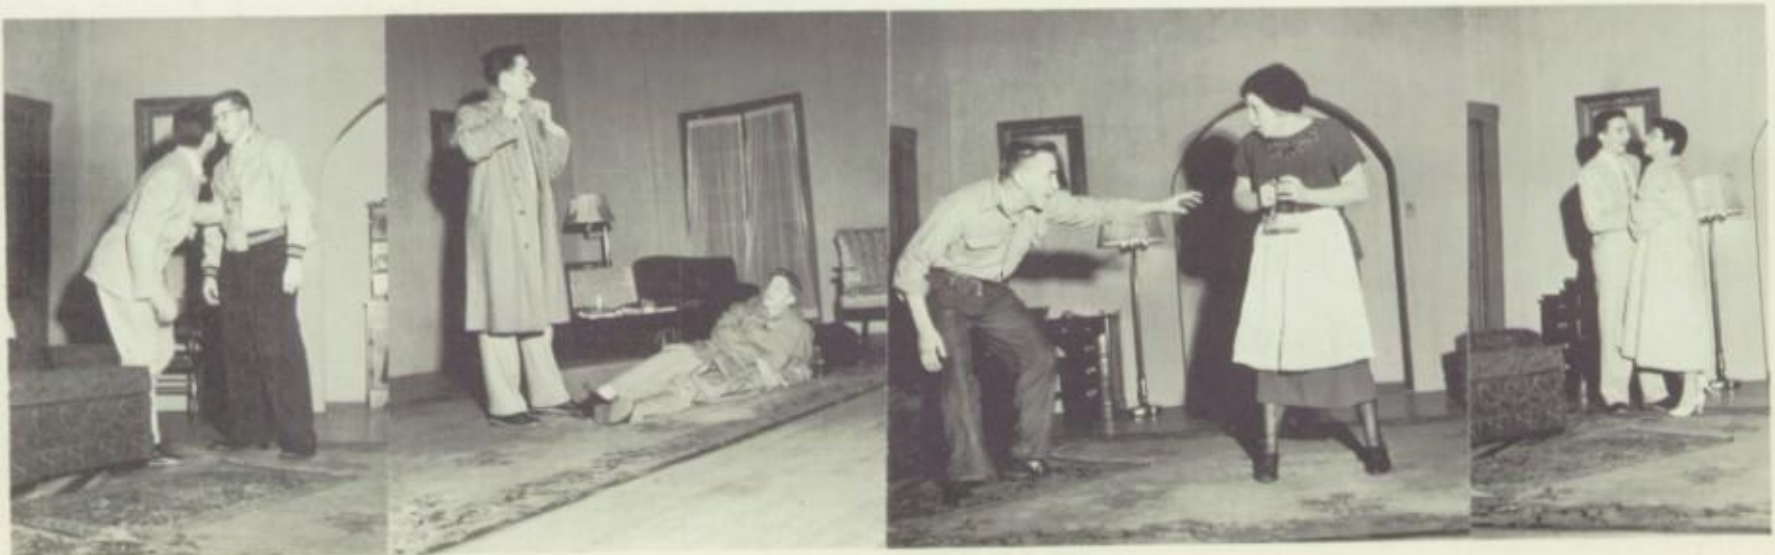

"SHADOWS in the Night," the annual mystery play was presented February 18 and 19 under the direction of F. L. Lewis. The cast included Norma Flinchbaugh, John Wilkinson, Tom Miller, Joan Bodner, Leroy Rodgers, William King, Diane Travis, Ann Butler, Dick Kohlman, John Knabb, Alice Archible, and Annella Adams.

The night was dark and stormy when four hopeful heirs assembled at the old Barret mansion for the reading of Daniel Barret's will. Matters were confused by a gag writer and his friend, plus a movie queen and her humorous Negro maid, not to speak of a foreboding housekeeper, a tough bodyguard, and a howling idiot.

The plot thickened when two mysterious murders occurred and long hidden diamonds were found. The audience remained on the edge of their seats until the murders were solved, romances patched up, and the diamonds restored to their rightful owner.

BULLETIN BOARD STAFF

MISS Eleanor Hoy's assistants in the library this year numbered about forty. Their jobs varied from preparing new books for circulation, to looking up magazines for fellow students, to dusting and straightening shelves.

These girls were recommended to Miss Hoy at the end of their freshman year by their teachers. Sophomores serve three periods a week, doing general work one period, working at the desk one period, and working in the library manual once a week. Junior and seniors spend two periods a week alternating between desk duty and general work.

Students entering the library during the past two years have become acquainted with Mrs. Grace Vogus, who serves as Miss Hoy's assistant. Much credit goes to Charl Taylor and Marilyn Wheeling who arranged the attractive bulletin board displays this term.

Sock Hop To Head March Activities

A sock hop in the boy's gym will highlight the month of March according to Jim Kistler, senior class president. After the success of the Harvest Ball, the senior class social committee is counting on another over whelming crowd. The senior class picnic this spring provides the committee with a means to tax their wits.

This important committee consists of John Knabb, Marilyn Wheeling, Kay Rauscher, Bob Flinchbaugh, Kay Way, Judy Bowler, Jim McCullough and Dick Delahanty.

Top Sellers Named As Campaign Ends

Collecting $150 for the junior magazine campaign, top salesman George McCartney earned his choice of a portable radio or a wrist watch. Second and third highest with over $100 were Bill King and Virginia Kerr while Lee Belfore, Ernie Smith and Jim Farling followed close behind with more than $50 each.

The minute Junior develops pneumonia, we borrow money which we can eventually pay back; whereas, a Russian who can't pay his bills is sent to the salt mines. Oh how I wonder if you ever wonder about our country's privilege: freedom to say or print what we want in

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

A CAPPELLA Choir, under the direction of Harland C. Mitchell, had a very successful year. To help finance a concert trip to New York in the summer, they sold over two tons of taffy. A Cappella's rendition of the "Night Before Christmas" and their annual "Swing Out" concert stand as highlights of the year. Officers were Bob Flinchbaugh, president; Jim Kistler, secretary; and Jeanne Runzo, librarian, who was chosen to represent the group at All State Chorus.

Mr. Harland Mitchell

MUSIC CLUB COUNCIL

THE Music Club Council was composed of the presidents and secretaries of all instrumental and vocal groups in the school. Their job consisted of planning the music activities of the year, while their main project was paying expenses of those Seniorites elected to State band, chorus, and orchestra.

Mr. Runzo

Mr. Keefer

GIRLS' CHOIR

*T*HIS group of singing lassies look forward to A Cappella after their rewarding year in Girls' Choir. They presented an assembly and a portion of the Christmas program under the direction of Harland C. Mitchell. Filling the offices of president, secretary and librarian were Martha Jetter, Dixie Warham, and Mary Griffiths.

GIRLS' ENSEMBLE

*E*ACH Tuesday the Girls' Ensemble harmonized in the music room under the direction of Gerald Keefer. President and accompanist was Mary Ann Davis. Carol End kept the records while Beth Biery handled the duties of librarian. These sixteen girls, selected on tonal quality and sight reading ability, sacrificed other club memberships to practice for entertaining in and out of school.

MIXED ENSEMBLE

ORIGINALLY, the members of Mixed Ensemble were to be two octettes for boys and girls. At tryouts early in the school year, Mr. Mitchell chose these seventeen students from a large group of hopeful songbirds. These groups, both separately and collectively, sing on various occasions for assemblies and civic organizations.

GIRLS' CHORUS

UNDERTAKING the job of president of Girls' Chorus this year was Dolores Peters, working with Mary Ann Diebold, secretary, and Nancy Ritts, librarian. These girls graduate to Choir next year and then to A Cappella. Under the direction of "Mitch" they presented an assembly and participated in the Christmas program.

SWING BAND

THE Swing Band's service to OCHS included playing for all home basketball games, pep meetings during basketball season, and various assemblies. Although this year's membership included many new faces, the Swing Band developed into a really solid unit--thanks to the careful and dilligent work of its director, Philip Runzo, and manager, Bob Flinchbaugh.

BAND

SENIORITES will not forget the stirring music and intricate field maneuvers provided by the band during football season. Under the direction of Mr. Runzo, the band also played for pep meetings, an assembly, and several civic parades. Officers include Virgil Grumbling, president; Bob Flinchbaugh, secretary; Barb Murray, librarian, and board members, Margie Hagan, Jack Getz, and Don Ware.

PIT ORCHESTRA

THIS year's pit orchestra under the direction of Mr. Runzo provided interlude music for the Senior play, Mystery play and Spring Presentations. In addition, they presented their own assembly, and Baccalaureate and Commencement music. Officers were Bob Flinchbaugh, president; Jeanne Runzo, secretary; Roberta Carll, librarian, and board members, Mary Ann Davis, Sally Shannon, and Jack Getz.

MAJORETTES

UNDER Hardworking head majorette Faye Baker, this year's squad of twirlers turned in many memorable exhibitions throughout the year. Smartly strutting with the band, their half-time performances at football games entertained fans at every home contest and during basketball season, the crowds at Lincoln enjoyed the girls' twirling, and marching drills with the cheerleaders. Six seniors closed their majorette careers at the end of school. They are Faye Baker, Pat Stivanson, Jane Evans, Mary Ann Stigletz, Punky George, and Carol End.

VARSIITY FOOTBALL

*A*LTHOUGH Corry once again claimed the Section II championship the fighting Oiler squad of 1953 racked up a notable record of five wins and four losses under the great coaching of John O. Kaufman and his four assistants Bob Bidwell, Ralph Jones, George Shoup, and Tom Komisak.

The Oilers made a fast start as they downed Titusville and Grove City but Greenville and Warren evened the record as they defeated the OCHS squad. Back on the winning trail, the Oilers beat Meadville and Millcreek and then suffered defeat under Hickory and at our last home game with Corry.

Fifteen seniors culminated their grid careers as we whipped Franklin at Miller-Sibley field. Graduating backfield men are Don Dolecki, Matthew Hajduk, Chuck Carabell, Dick Delahunty, and Irish Gregory. Hanging up their cleats for the last time were linesmen Jim Kistler, Dick Bucholz, Tom Nicolas, Jim Puleo, John Knabb, Pete Burch, Gerry Callahan, Ron Higbee, and Dave Settlemire and Phil Foster who are not pictured.

JUNIOR VARSITY TEAM

VARSITY BASKETBALL

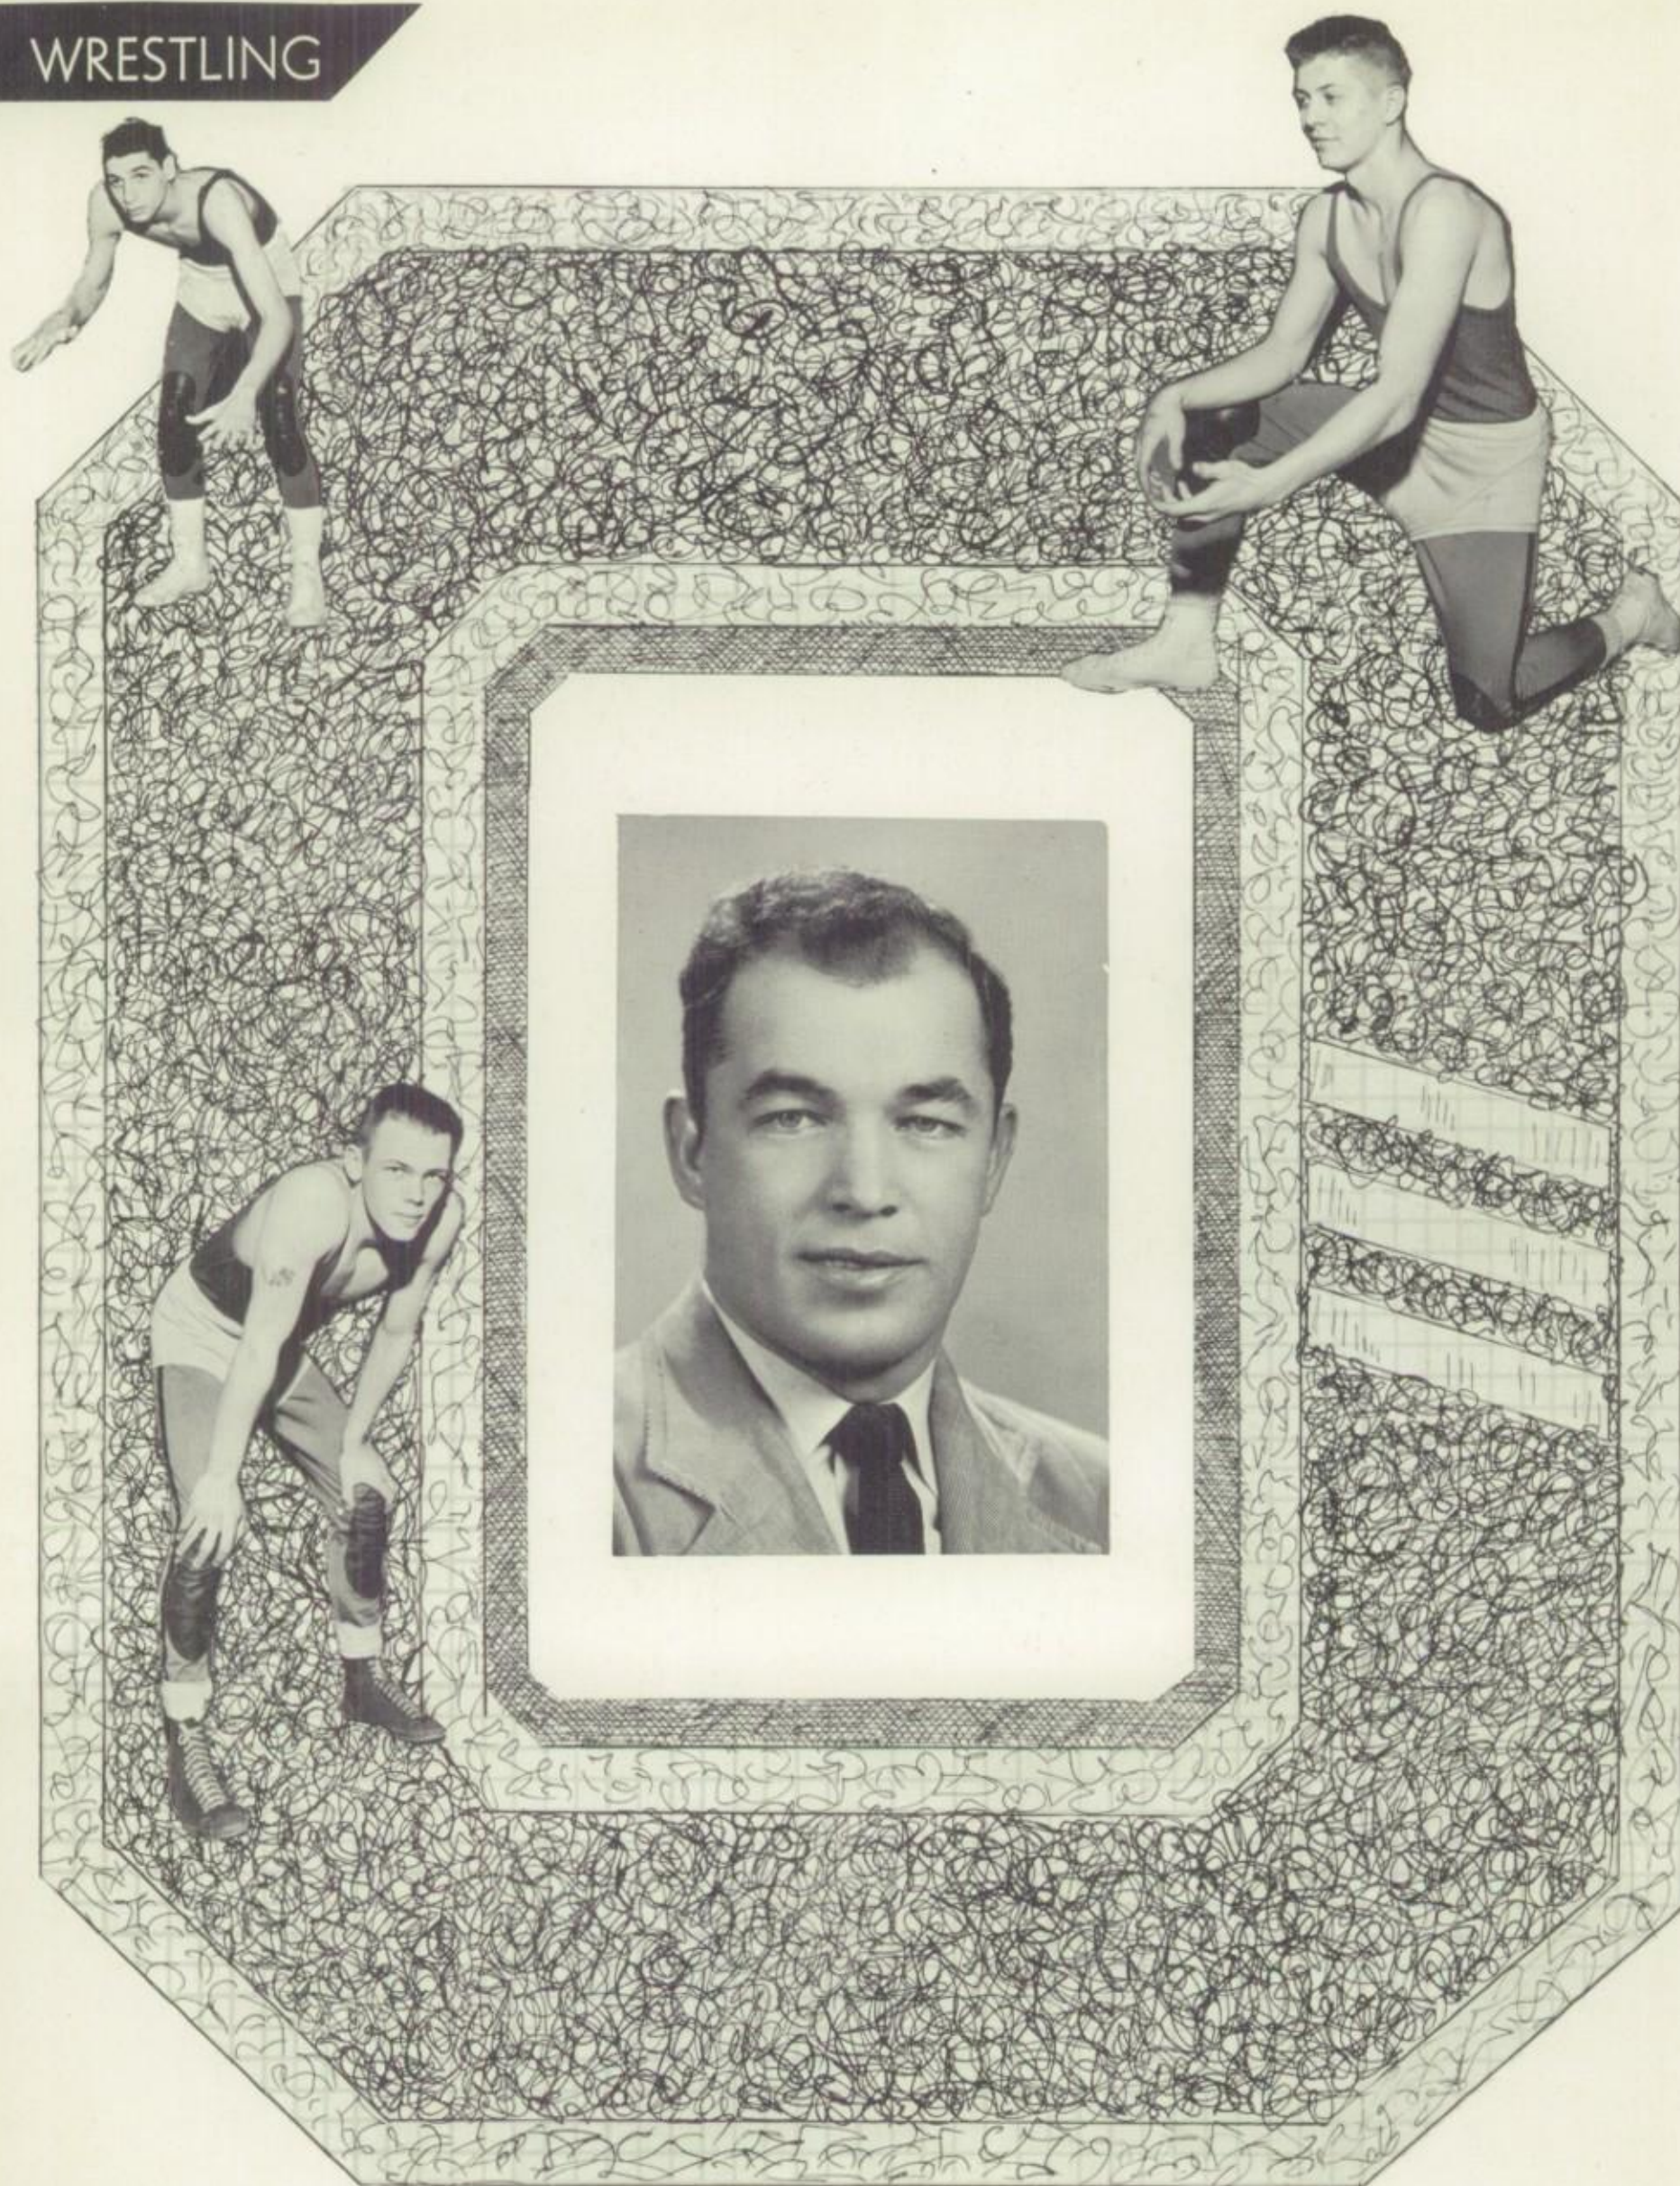

WHILE placing third in the league with a record of six wins and four losses, the Oiler basketball varsity scored a non-league record of ten straight wins, giving them a good season's record of sixteen wins and four losses.

Coach Hud Wells feels that this year's Oilers played their best ball in the second Cranberry game and their last contest of the year with Titusville. Fans will long remember the three tense overtime periods in the second game at Corry, which the Oilers finally won by one point.

Five varsity players closed their high school court careers this season. They are Gerry Callahan, Dave Settlemire, Pete Burch, Matthew Hajduk, and John Gregory. Bob Petulla concluded two years work as team manager.

WRESTLING

VARSITY WRESTLING

LACK of experience was the main stumbling block for the OCHS wrestling squad of 1954, who turned in a record of one win, ten losses, and one tie. With only three seniors on the squad, the rest of the team of underclassmen had little or no previous experience, and sickness and minor injuries made it impossible to have a complete first team for any match.

Taking this into consideration, Coach Blair Hildebrand feels that he had a good team and prospects of a better season next year with most of the varsity returning.

Senior letterman Lawrence Petulla went undefeated through the season and successfully defended his District 10 championship in the 112 pound class.

VARSITY "O" CLUB

VARSITY "O" Club is represented by a standard jacket known to all. Eligibility for this club is dependent on winning a varsity letter. This year they sponsored the sale of V. O. pencils and purchased athletic magazines for the library. Their adviser was Hud Wells.

F.O.C. COMMITTEE

ONCE again the F.O.C. committee worked with a similar council from Franklin High to promote friendly rivalry and good sportsmanship between the two schools. Events planned by this council were Spirit Day, our pep meeting with Franklin speakers, and the crowning of queen Carol Paulie and her attendant Flo McGreevy during the Franklin game. The committee under Chuck Carabell and Gretchen Morck successfully carried out their theme of "Friendship Out Of Competition."

WE, the class of 1954, have added another milestone to the history of education in the Oil City Public schools, and we sincerely hope that our contribution to our school in the past four years was up to the expectations of our parents, our teachers, and our school administrators.

We began our Freshman year with little fanfare as we were the green ones. But as the year wore on we began to take our part in the scheme of things and though separated, some of us at South and some of us at Senior, we began to develop that class unity which was to blend us into what we hoped would be a credit to O.C.H.S.

Our Sophomore year found us together for the first time in the halls of Senior High. Here we were exposed to the many choices of academic education and extra-curricular activities for which our school is well renowned. Our Alma Mater took on new significance as we contributed our under-classmen share to the various school plays, musical activities, and sports.

In our Junior year we experienced a wider scope of activities and accepted an accompanying degree of responsibilities for the welfare of our school. We chose Mr. Goodwill as our advisor, and elected Jim Kistler, Carol Paulie, Beverly Lewis and Gerry Callahan as our class officers. Now we were really getting into the thick of things and knew that there was more to education than just the Three R's. It was up to us to contribute generously to the activities that make ours the outstanding school that it is. We were happy to have sponsored the most successful magazine campaign of the school's history, and to be well represented in the music and dramatic programs.

And then, all at once, we became the elder students of our school. It was now our turn to set proper examples. Our officers were Jim Kistler, Janet Hodge, Jane Evans and Don Dolecki. "Miss Brooks" was our Senior Class play. Never before did we have to accept so much responsibility. Never before did we concentrate on leaving our mark, a creditable one, for posterity and for O.C.H.S. "Faith have we"---"School we love so well" became more than just words for another song. We who were once anxious to conclude our high school days, suddenly were confronted with the nostalgic loss which was soon to become ours. Baccalaureate---Commencement ---THIS WAS IT. With an eye to the future, we will always remember a very happy and profitable past.

"Blue and White, thy colors will always fly, soaring upward to the sky. Thee we'll cherish evermore, as the years go by."
